Prof. MUDr. Jiří Horák
Head of Module IIC
Dear Students,

The change of examining Module IB oral to written form we proceeded mainly because the written test is more objective and fairer than the oral test is not burdened with the variability caused by different composition of examination boards and finally allows us (teachers) to better monitor in what areas we need to improve teaching.

We are fully aware that a sufficient number of quality tests is not trivial and therefore we have been working on their creation for several months. The test questions will be selected randomly from a set of questions for each study module and their files contain or will contain more than a thousand different questions (this will ensure a sufficient variety of tests) that were previously independently reviewed by at least three teachers of the field thereby significantly reducing the risk of vague or incorrect questions. The resulting computer-generated tests will be checked at least once by two teachers. For each exam date completely new test variants will be generated thus avoiding possible complications caused by repetition of the same questions.

The evaluation of tests will use computer technology that you know the entrance exam test. This will ensure prompt and impartial evaluation.

We promise better comfort from the written test both for students and teachers, more relevant and equitable results and further improvement of teaching. Any feedback from the students is welcome.

Best regards,

prof. Eva Samcová,
Head of Module IB

Dear Sir or Madam,

my name is Marianne Weinhold. I am a student of the Ilmenau University of Technology/Germany and also a member of a students' organisation, that organises an International Student Conference every two years.

From May 13th until May 22th 2011 the "International Student Week in Ilmenau 2011" (ISWI 2011) will be held here in Ilmenau, Germany. It is a conference for students from all over the world and has been held every two years since 1993.

ISWI 2011 focuses on the topic "freedom" following the motto "crossing borders". The Application for participation via our website>> iswi2011.org << starts now and is open until January 15th 2011. After voting the applications on the basis of the written essays, we invite about 400 young people from all over the world. In lectures, discussions, group work, debates and workshops we will discuss together different aspects of freedom and try to find solutions to change things for the better.

The participants chosen only have to pay travel and visa costs. Food (breakfast, lunch, dinner) and accommodation is supplied by us.
We would be very thankful, if you could forward this information to possibly interested people and encourage them to apply.
Thank you for your support in advance.

For our faculty MUDr Filip Prusík from the Institute of the Medical Microbiology participated, for the army major MUDr Zbyněk Valenta, who told the students his experience from the combat mission in Afghanistan. After the internship at the Center foreign students saw the military fortification of the Czech Republic from 1938.

RESOLUTION OD ACADEMIC SENATE OF 3RD FM, MEETING NO.1, ON DECEMBER 14TH, 2010 FOR ACTION „DĚKUJEME - ODCHÁZÍME“

The Academic Senate of 3rd FM CU expressed the support for the action of Medical Trade Union Club „Děkujeme, odcházíme!“. AS appeals to the Government to head demands of medical doctors. It believes that the funds for health care are not used efficiently in Czech Republic and offers the participation of experts from 3rd FM, to discuss the health care reform.

Professor Muhammad Yunus

Professor Muhammad Yunus is the founder and Managing Director of Grameen Bank, which currently has 2,564 branches providing credit to 8 million poor people in 81,351 villages in Bangladesh. He developed the core of Grameen Bank: banking without collateral for the poorest of the poor in order to enable them to lift themselves out of poverty. He started the Grameen Bank Project in 1976, it received a banking license in 1983 and thus was transformed into a formal bank. According to the meaning of “Grameen” (translation: village), Grameen Bank offers small loans for self employment to the rural poor, especially poor women.
The Nobel Peace Prize 2006 was awarded jointly to Muhammad Yunus and Grameen Bank “for their efforts to create economic and social development from below”. In addition to providing loans to poor people, Professor Muhammad Yunus in the last few years has devoted his work to spreading and implementing his idea of “social business”, a concept for businesses that strive to solve social problems, but are also financially self-sustainable.

The winter season 2010/2011 is coming to the end and snow is disappearing just in front of our eyes thanks to the temperature records in March. So we can only retrace courses with our institute, which we have realized this year. Seven courses were held - 5 with possibilities to get a credit. Four courses were organised in the ski centres in the Czech Republic, three were held abroad.

The cottage for the first obligatory course was a well known cottage for undemanding mountaineers – Erlebaška. Despite the embarrassing weather in the beginning of the week the conditions were finally perfect so all the snow sport lovers enjoyed themselves. Even the beginners on snowboards or cross country skies did not have to be afraid of hard snow and they could use great circumstances for energetic improving their skills. The whole course was prised by the whole day trip on the cross country skies in really unbelievable bright weather. At the same time the first course in abroad was held in Marilleva. Italy offered the circumstances as expected – sunny weather, ideal snow which enthused everyone.

Špindlerův Mlýn and cottage Patejdlova bouda was the next destination which our students visited. Traditionally pleasant family surroundings of Patejdlova bouda was a satisfying compensation to the worse accessibility of the slopes. The course was held under nice snow circumstances without any injuries or complications. The next obligatory course was held in the VAK cottage. Comfortable and pleasant surroundings created by experienced staff always guarantees a good course. Unfortunately mountains changed into an ice mountain during that week, so only the slopes could be used but cross country routes were in very bad conditions. The course was held in the full extent and even the servisman of the Czech representative team showed how to take care about skies.
The final obligatory course was held in the well known ski centre Sestriere. Weather circumstances were changing a lot and students could try their skills on the Olympics slopes WOG 2006. Unfortunately there was one serious injury. We wish early recover.

273 students took part in these courses – it is quite a good number when we consider the fact that the exam period was not very long. We hope that we will welcome minimally the same number of students in our courses in the next ski season and we are convinced that the ski conditions will be even better than this year.

So in the next year SKOL.

To the following address:
The Intensive Course of Chronic Care and Care at the End of Life (IPCEC) took place in Belgium, in the period of January 23rd – February 4th, 2011. The course was attended mainly by students in nursing, physiotherapy, occupational therapy, pharmacy and general medicine from Belgium, Czech Republic, Portugal, Spain, Norway, Lithuania, Estonia, Greece and USA.

The initial part of the course took place at the University College Arteveldehogeschool. The first two days were devoted to introductory lectures in the area of chronic and palliative care, pain, other symptoms and communication with the patients. The third day students formed six groups which participated in field trips to different types of devices in Gent and surroundings which are involved in palliative care for children and adults or provide care for chronically ill patients. Students were conducted by local staff and had the opportunity to interview patients.

The second part of the week was dedicated to the lectures about decisions in the end of life, about euthanasia, suicide with assistant, palliative care and problems connected with these topics. The discussion about euthanasia, in which two doctors /CR, Belgium/ and a nurse studying ethical questions about euthanasia /Belgium/ and a lawyer /Belgium/ took part. The discussion was organised in the form of questions concerning moral aspects, legislation and practical activities connected with the act of euthanasia.

The evening programme included special dinner – we tasted various national cuisines. Very interesting and amusing programme was the Cultural Evening. Students from each state prepared small presentations about their country and they could show off with less known national products. We had opportunity to learn more about other countries, to taste special meals and dance traditional dances.

The second part of the programme took place in Dworp. The lectures about ethical problems connected with the palliative care, with science and research done on the dying patients, the lectures about death and dying, dignity, autonomy, pain and spirituality. Students appreciated causistics solved in the groups, whose sense was to evaluate the particular situation of the patient and to propose all interventions which should be provided to the patient – to create a plan of the complex care about the patient based on the interaction among all professions.

The profession of fyziotherapy, ergotherapy, speech therapy were introduced there. The part of the programme were also special workshops from the complementary therapy as musitherapy, aromatherapy, massage, visage, and practical possibility to try communication with the person suffering of demency.

In the free time we could see the film The Doctor, go to the students bar and taste one of the well-known Belgian bears but also to work on the final presentations. In Dworp students had one day off, which they could spend as they wanted. Some of them visited Brusel, Bruggs, Antwerps, Amsterdam, some of them preferred travelling in the Dworp’s surrounding or passive relax. In the evening teachers surprised students by pleasant relaxing „sound massage“.

The final part of the programme was held in Gent. Students had enough time to prepare their presentations and see the town with the wonderful historical centre and a lot of sightseeings.

The last day was dedicated to the students presentations. Six groups spoke about the institutions they had visited during the third day of the course. In the groups there were students from the different states so it was interesting to compare how differently such institutions worked in these countries. Presentations were accompanied by videos, photos, causistics. Quite often the presentation was enreached by discussion or theatre scene.

The evaluation of the course took place after the final presentations. Later followed the closing ceremony and dinner. Each student obtained 3 ECTS and the certificate of the course.

From our perspective it was a very interesting course which allowed us a deeper insight into the care of chronically ill patients and patient in the final stage of life. It has enabled us to compare approaches and options in the care of the patients in our country and other countries. The course was very useful from the professional and personal perspective, possibility to work in the international team was very enriching.

THE COURSE OF SPORT CLIMBING ARCO

The place where the course was hold is one of the most famous areas of sport climbing around Arco, near Lago di Garda. Climbers form the whole Europe have been going there to feel the special atmosphere which only few areas can be proud of. It is given by the special history of climbing, the large amount of the climbers, who climbed there and have returned there, by special appreciated competitions oriented on difficulty, special climber awards – all that have a great impression on visitors.

We started the course with students on places with the view on the lake and we tried new climbing methods which can not be shown on the artificial wall.

Next day we visited Nago, nice climbing in the lying, perpendicular, slightly overhanging ways, where everyone could find just his right one. The course was not dedicate only for the experienced climbers but also for those who had never climbed before. A few students without experience with outdoor climbing went with us but from the first day it was clear that they would not suffer. Relaxed atmosphere did not have to be created – everybody had arrived full of enthusiasm, it was a great pleasure to be among so many positive people interested in climbing.

Next two days we climbed in sectors Massone a Belvedere, especially the first one is a place, where each climber could climb from the real beginner to the superclimber with the highest ambitions. Everyone could try his abilities.
The course was not only about climbing and sport performances. Not any gelateria was missed and we tasted a lot of pizzas. We spent the last evening at one table and it was a nice ending of our course.

13.7% of graduates are working abroad /most of them in Germany/. The main reasons – besides financial ones – are better working conditions offered abroad, a bad system of postgradual education in the CR. About one third of those who are working abroad has decided not to go back to the CR.

Most respondents (70.6%) said that when they started their job, they felt to be as well prepared as the graduates from the other medical faculties. 28.6% respondents said that being graduates of our faculty and the new curriculum had given them an advantage against the other graduates. Only two students – both are working in Germany – evaluated our education as a below-average one. Critical notes were connected especially with the level of the practical education.

Bachelor study

Being a successful graduater of the Bachelor’s study programme at the 3rd FM UK has considerably improved graduaters’ chances at the job market. Thanks to it 11% of graduaters has found a job, 21% graduaters – in connection with studies- has found a better job position. 40% graduaters were stimulated by the Bachelor programme to continue in studies – mostly in the Master’s programme. The same amount of students (12%) of the Bachelor’s and Magister’s programme leaves abroad, the same is also the motivation - dissatisfaction with the financial rewards in the CR (4), dissatisfaction with the system of specialist training (1) and dissatisfaction with working conditions in health care in our country. Our graduaters succeeded in Ireland, Saudi Arabia, UK, Greece, France, the Nederlands and Italy. Even the respondents of the bachelor’s programme have been relatively satisfied with the level of the education. 70% would not do any changes in teaching. The most frequently recommended change was to strengthen the contact teaching – practice, seminars, practical training (ca 30%). According to the respondents of our survey the Faculty has a large debt of study materials, 70% of respondents evaluated them as unsatisfying respondents. Students criticized the offer of the practice and internships, 82% evaluated the offer as unsatisfying.

Even the number of respondents is not very large the information about the next destiny of our graduaters is a valuable source of new ideas thinking of structure of pregraduater education. We were pleased by the fact that all respondents were interested in participating in activities organised for graduaters of our faculty – we try to initiate the establishment of an informal association of graduaters of the 3rd MF UK – based on the pattern of Alumni organizations abroad.

NATIONAL COORDINATING CENTER OF ACCIDENTS AND VIOLENCE PREVENTION AND PROMOTING SAFETY FOR CHILDREN IN THE FACULTY HOSPITAL MOTOL

On 2 May 2011 the Ministry of Health approved the establishment of the National Coordinating Center of Accidents and Violence Prevention and Promoting Safety for Children at the Faculty Hospital Motol, which will be announced in early June at the opening ceremony of the reconstructed part of the FH Motol, where the Dean of 3rd FM UK, prof. MUDr. Michal Anděl, CSc. is invited.

The establishment of the National Coordinating Center is in line with the National Action Plan on Child Injury Prevention for the years 2007 – 2017 and National Strategy for Prevention of Violence Against Children in the CR for the period 2008 – 2018, with the resolution WHO EURO 2005 and the recommendation of the Council of Europe from 2007. The National Coordinating Center will realize these targets in partnership with the departement of the 3rd FM UK, with the Departement of Child and Youth Health – Violence Prevention and the Departement of Pediatric Surgery, Orthopedics and Traumatology FH Motol and the Center of Child Injury prevention in Brno – Children’s trauma and data collection.

The Departement of Child and Youth Health Care is working with child victims of violence and it will cooperate with the other departements of faculty.

In future the National Coordinating Center will seek to feature the prestigious function „WHO Centre of Excellence on Child Violence and Injury Prevention and Safety Promotion“.

The main goal of the Center will be a maximum reduction of child mortality in the CR as a result of accidents and violence, stopping to increase and decrease the frequency of injuries to children and children victims of violence, especially serious injuries, permanent damages and serious forms of violence, which cause development of trauma and it means they form longterm disabilities in the mental nad social health.

The Center has two priorities for the first year of its existence: a decade devoted to the traffic accidents declared by the WHO and the Council of Europe campaign to stop sexual abuse to children.

THE WORLD NO TOBACCO DAY – MAY, 31

...contribution from Department of Child and Youth Health

As every year, on May 31 will take place the World No Tobacco Day. This year is mainly focused on the promotion and implementation of the Framework Convention of the World Health organization about tobacco control (WHO FCTC) in all 193 member countries of WHO.

The first time was the World No Tobacco Day announced by WHO in year 1987 in response to the growing number of deaths due to smoking. This day does not draw attention not only to the direct victims of active and passive smoking and also deals to primary prevention of the dangerous phenomenon.

In the past each country tried to control the tobacco epidemic alone. Over the years the epidemic has grown into a pandemic which clearly showed that the global problem requires a global solution. WHO FCTC presents a new approach in international health cooperation through the global legal framework for addressing tobacco pandemic. It lies on the proven and provisions relating to restrictions on supply and demand (advetising, promotion, sponzoring) of tobacco companies.

Using tobacco may kill during this century a billion people. Stop smoking while you still have time. be aware that tobacco smoke kills everyone in your neighborhood, not just you!

Conseling for smoking cessation in the Department of Child and Youth Health organizes to this important day a small exhibitin of art works of students of 3rd FM and Nursing School. Students created their artwork on the theme: “Why I smoke – Why I do not smoke.” Exhibition will be located at foyer of 3rd FM from Thursday, May 26 until Friday, June 3, 2011. You are welcome!

The World No Tobacco Day, 31 of May 2011

31 of May is designed every year for the day to highlight the adverse health effects of smoking and passive inhalation of tobacco smoke and note the necessity of continuing the process of the whole society solving this issue in the primary prevention.

Tobacco is one of the leading causes of death, which can be preventable. More than 5 million people a year die from the consequences of tobacco use – more than HIV/AIDS, malaria and tuberculosis combined. Half of the smokers die of the consequences of diseases caused by tobacco. In addition, smoking harms everyone who is exposed to tobacco smoke in the passive way. Unfortunately, most of the population is not able to realize the extent and severity of diseases caused by tobacco use or exposure to tobacco smoke, although they have some idea about its risk. So it should be doctors, future doctors, medical staff – of course non-smokers – who have to know a lot about smoking side effects, to educate their patients and help them in giving up this habit. But that is not enough for primary prevention. The ideal situation would be, when young people / kids and adolescents/ have never tried to smoke and their modern life style would be nonsmoking. To reach such an ideal state is really difficult but from the long-term point of view possible. The number of smokers in the population was lowered down based on the systematic effort in many countries, also some measures have been led in to protect nonsmokers against the tobacco smoke influence. It is sad that the smoking prevention in the Czech Republic is not very successful. Some possible causes are - insufficient political power, low or non support of nonsmoking activities from the side of our important representatives, lobby of tobacco companies etc. One of these causes could also be low attention dedicated to this topic during the education process of doctors and nurses. My dream – the graduates of the 3rdFM finish their studies as nonsmokers – hardly comes true. However, I believe that our graduates contribute a little bit to lower smoking habit in the Czech society and to protect nonsmokers.

Summer school on Health law and ethics
27 June - 8 July, 2011

The Erasmus Observatory on Health law / Institute of Health Policy & Management (Erasmus University Rotterdam) announces the Annual Summer School programme on Health law, providing health professionals and practitioners, with an opportunity for intensive training in various aspects of health law and ethics over a two-weeks period, while absorbing the sights, sounds and culture unique to Rotterdam and The Netherlands. The Summer School offers a custom-developed course taught by leading academics in their field.

The course is designed to enhance the preparation of health professionals confronted with legal and ethical issues. The course focuses on both theoretical and practical aspects of health law and ethics.

A Certificate of Attendance will be presented to participants who wish to take the course for academic credit.

Course Description
The actual course schedule and offerings are subject to change. Please check the Observatory’s Web site for the latest information.

Public Health
Provides an overview of basic public health principles and the governing law. The course examines the legal basis for public health regulation and explores the tensions among public health activities, civil liberties, property rights, and other significant interests. The course also examines current policy issues, including immunization, bioterrorism, forced medical treatment, disease reporting and surveillance, infectious disease control, and tobacco regulation.

Bioethics and the Law
Students explore issues arising from advances in biological science and technology as they impact on the legal rights and responsibilities of patients, health providers, and government policy makers. Issues explored range from legal and ethical dilemmas in the treatment of individuals to broader societal issues dealing with the allocation of health care resources.

Human Rights and Health
Introduces students to the substance and theory of human rights law in health care. Exploring the linkage between human rights, health care (policy), and international law, the course examines the right to health vis-à-vis other human rights, as framed by international treaties and covenants. The course considers case studies and issues, focusing on the triangular relationship in health care (patient-doctor-purchaser).

Sexual and Reproductive Health
This course focuses on international norms and case law on human reproduction, critiqued from numerous points of view. We will spend considerable time on contraception and abortion. We will review the history of the ability to control reproduction and attempts to regulate it in Europe and abroad. Legal issues presented by new technologies including cloning, surrogacy, in vitro fertilization, and genetic engineering will also be examined.

EXTRAMURAL MOBILITY IN THE 6TH YEAR

In the academic year 2011/12 faculty management have spread the possibility to complete the clinical intership in the 6th year at the major sites outside Prague in the final state examination in all disciplines /internal medicine, surgery, obstetrics and gynecology, pediatrics/. They consider appropriate that students who are preparing for the state exam and are interested in can spend at least part of education in regional or municipal hospitals, so that due to the lower staff at some departements they can be more intensively utilized in the positions of the second doctors.

Signed contracts with hospitals (Hospital Ostrov nad Ohří, Hospital Kadaň, Regional Health a.s. managing Masaryk Hospital Ústí nad Labem, Hospital Teplice, Hospital Chomutov and Hospital Most, Hospital Liberec, Klaudián Hospital Mladá Boleslav, Hospital Mělník, Hospital Brandýs nad Labem, Hospital Nymburk, Hospital Kolin, Hospital Čáslav and Hospital Tábor) have the character of an exclusive cooperation agreements which allow our students to attend this practice in any of the selected state exam disciplines. In all hospitals there was pre-negotiated possibility to receive lunch for employee prices and accommodation in hospital hostels. The cost of accommodation in hostels will be paid after students return from internship against the proof of payment.

It is appropriate for students who plan external internship to report this intention in advance to the study assistant Mrs. Mgr Věra Stožická, who has the organizational placement site in charge.

Possibility of practical education in the FHCU clinics is not affected by this.
