Our laboratory has been involved in investigating the effect of psychostimulant drugs. In the general population there is generally the opinion that psychostimulants have sociable and anxiolytic effect (reduces anxiety). The experimental studies suggest that this effect is not always clear. This publication was developed in cooperation with dr. Mikulecká Institute of Physiology Academy of Sciences, we cooperate with for long term.

The aim of this study was to compare the effects of low doses of different psychostimulant drugs (amphetamine, cocaine and MDMA - ecstasy) on the social behavior of two adult male rats.

Our results not only intensify the research of psychostimulant drug effect but also contribute to the understanding of the mechanism of formation of psychiatric disorders associated with the change of social behavior, such as autism, bipolar disorder, obsessive-compulsive disorder and schizophrenia.

This publication is based on the project GAČR 14-03708S and PRVOUK P34.

Severe refractory generalized spasticity which results from central nervous system is difficult to be influenced by conventional treatments in many cases. In recent years the continuous 24-hour administration of baclofen was proven directly into the intrathecal space. At the Clinic of Neurology 3rd FM CU and FNKV this treatment has been long engaged in the framework of the Comprehensive treatment centers spasticity. Implantation of the pumps are carried out in collaboration with the Department of Neurosurgery 3rd FM CU and FNKV. The intrathecal baclofen treatment is very effective but complications can occur (eg. this syndrome) which have to be urgently addressed and this in specialized centers which deal with this treatment for long time.

The Chapter in the monograph "Analytical Separation Science" published by Wiley publishing house, the authors from the Institute of Biochemistry, Molecular and Cell Biology 3rd FM CU and the Department of Analytical Chemistry, Faculty of Science CU

Online version published: 25 November 2015 -Link: http://dx.doi.org/10.1002/9783527678129.assep038

On the basis of the invitation of prominent leaders (modern separation analytical techniques) a chapter entitled "Detectors in capillary electrophoresis," has been written which is part of the first edition five-volume monograph "Analytical separation science. This project presents a comprehensive overview of the theory and application by using modern analytical separation techniques which include chromatography, electromigration and membrane techniques.

The publication of authors from the Department of Molecular Biology and Cell Pathology 3rd FM and the Institute for Mother and Child Care

Annotation of publication:
The published article is the outcome of successful cooperation between the Department of Molecular Biology and Cell Pathology 3rd Faculty of Medicine and the Institute for Mother and Child Care which is in line with the trend of recent years and is aimed at studying the role of non-coding RNA molecules - miRNAs in the regulation of gene expression in connection with the occurrence of pregnancy complications. The pregnancy and associated processes can be generally understood as a body burden that can "take off" some of the changes which results may appear clinically significant cardiovascular and cerebrovascular disease in later life of the patient.

Our work was financially supported by PRVOUK P32 (investigator doc. MUDr. Jaroslav Feyereisl, CSc.).

The initial idea for this review article came from Halifax international project focused on new approaches to prevention and treatment of cancer, in which the 2nd Department of Internal Medicine (Dr. Heneberg) participated in the research team dr. Felshehera (Stanford University). This is a research direction in which we are able to potentially use the substance isolated and analyzed within the project AZV 15-32432A focused on preclinical research into the effects of cyclic depsipeptides isolated from entomopathogenic fungi on the metabolism, carcinogenesis and the human immune system.

Sad announcement

Prof. MUDr. Jan Vavůinec, DrSc.
The funeral will be held in a narrow circle of family and close friends on Tuesday, March 8, 2016 at 10:15 am in a crematorium in Prague-Motol.

On Monday, February 29, 2016 passed away at the age of 68 years, Professor of Pediatrics, MUDr. Jan Vavůinec, DrSc., and it raises in our minds memories of his life. The longest part of his professional life he combined with 2nd Clinic of children of the University Hospital in Motol. Until now he was a Professor of pediatrics and Head of the Children’s Centre for Diabetics at the Department of Children and Adolescents at 3rd FM CU in Prague and Vinohrad Hospital. For many years he was Vice Dean of the 2nd FM CU in Prague. Mr.Professor was highly theoretically and practically educated pediatrician and the main focus of his work has always been a child patient whose diagnosis and treatment success brought him the highest satisfaction. In many pediatric problems he has been an innovator and visionary. His broad and detailed overview of the entire pediatrics was unbelievable. He prefered one discipline and gave it the most and it was the pediatric endocrinology and particularly the diabetology. He was a member of the Czech and foreign (US) pediatric and diabetology companies. He dealt with Czech and international grants, coordinated series of clinical trials. His early retirement prevented him to finish his last major project funded by a grant from the US - the so-called “Trigger“ on reducing the risk of diabetes by children who have a higher chance of developing these disease.

Thank you, Mr. Professor for everything you did for pediatrics and for us, your students, we will try to honor your memory.

PUBLICATION ACHIEVEMENTS

Annotation:
The estimated number of problem drug users in the Czech Republic and opiates is increasing, in the Annual Report about Drug Situation in the Czech Republic in 2014 was reported a total of 47,700 (0.67% of the population aged 15-64), including opioid users it was about 11,300.

These are mainly heroin and buprenorphine, as fentanyl and opioid analgesics including morphine, hydromorphone (sometimes for the manufacture of heroin), codeine and the like. The opioid dependence is the most serious types of addictions, the current treatment is unsatisfactory, and therefore research has focused on finding new effective therapy.

Anotace:
The atrial fibrillation is the most common arrhythmia among adults and its incidence and prevalence increases with age. Simultaneously this arrhythmia is associated with prothrombotic and hypercoagulable state. The aim of our study was to investigate whether atrial fibrillation affects the effectiveness of antiplatelet drugs by patients with undergoing intracoronary stent implantation and to determine whether there is a relationship between the risk of thromboembolism (expressed through CHA2DS2VASc score) and the effectiveness of antiplatelet drugs by these patients.

PUBLISHING SUCCES

The publication of authors from the Institute of Biochemistry, Molecular and Cell Biology and the Departement of Analytical Chemistry, Faculty of Science UK
In the April issue of the Journal of Chromatography A there was published another article, which is the result of cooperation between the Institute of Biochemistry, 3rd Faculty of Medicine and the Department of Analytical Chemistry, Faculty of Science. The result is a new electrophoretic device for simultaneous determination of cations and anions. The device consists of two identical fused silica capillaries with a length of 10.5 cm and an inner diameter of 25 microns with their dispensing ends meeting in a plastic cross. The device can thus be considered as a capillary electrophoresis in a dosage in the center thereof. The proposed device has been tested, while NH4+, K+, Ca2+, Mg2+, Sr2+, Ba2+, Cl−, NO3−, SO42−, F−, ClO3− and using two independent contactless conductivity detectors. Complete separation of all components was achieved in less than 1 min. Miniature dimensions of the piezoelectric pump allowing their easy implementation into portable electrophoretic reports that in the future could be used directly at the patient’s bedside.

REPORT ABOUT 25TH INTERNATIONAL CONGRESS ORL FNKV AND 3RD MF UK HELD ON 21. 4. 2016 AT THE ANGELO HOTEL -PRAHA SMÍCHOV

At the outset several slides depicting the history of these congresses were reflected: the places, the number of congresses. It was documented that representatives of all continents have taken part as speakers. Prof. Claussen and Strupp were appointed visiting professors at Charles University 3rd Medical Faculty. As a reflection of this congress several clinical studies were realized, dozens of publications in prestigious journals, cooperation with universities in the USA, Italy, Germany and others.

After the opening speeches of the Dean of the 3rd Faculty of Medicine prof Michael Anděl PhD and the Deputy Director MUDr. Jan Votava, CSc., the panel discussion dealing with the sudden – ear hearing loss was held. The second panel discussion was held in the presence of a representative Auto Škoda a.s. (Ing. Kraus), BESIP (Ing. Šafář, I. Helikar), ČPP (H. Kovaříková, M. Velíšek) and ORL FNKV (A. Hahn).

The both panel discussions aroused considerable attention, which was documented by a rich and powerful didactic discussion. This, we can say jubilee, congress met expectations, was a good sign for the workplace and work of the otoneurology Committee, whose members participated on a good course of action. Corporate level was very good, the participation of the Dean and the Deputy Director underscored the prestige and importance of the event, which was attended by 191 participants from the ranks of ENT specialists, neurologists, general practitioners, and students NZLP.

THE 3RD FACULTY OF MEDICINE, A CO-ORGANIZER OF THE IMPORTANT INTERNATIONAL COURSE ON INTERVENTIONAL TREATMENT OF STROKE IN PRAGUE

Petr Widimský, Ivana Štětkářová

From 22 to 23 April 2016, the 5th interesting interdisciplinary meeting of doctors from around the world, dealing with the treatment of stroke - "ICCA Stroke 2016" was held. The event (held this year for the first time in Prague) was attended by 188 doctors of different specializations 9 out of 30 countries. Among the speakers there were neurologists, neurosurgeons, cardiologists and radiologists. Among the listeners these specializations also dominated, but also other experts were presented: antesteziologists, intensivists, internists, angiologists and vascular surgeons. Course organizers were prof. H. Sievert (cardiologist, Frankfurt, Germany), prof. L. N. Hopkins (neurosurgeon, Buffalo, USA), Dr. I. Grünwaldová (radiologist, Southend, United Kingdom) and the authors of this article. The 3rd Medical Faculty of Charles University and the Czech Society of Cardiology endorsed over the course. Participation of our representatives was very successful: a total of 8 invited lectures (besides the authors of this article prim. T. Peisker and dr. P. Vasko). The Course had a historical significance due to the fact that the first meeting of the committee - the World Federation for Interventional Stroke Treatment (WIST - http://www.mywist.org/) was held there. The first president of the new company was elected - prof. Hopkins from the USA.

Besides the exceptional quality of the scientific program we consider the most valuable the atmosphere that prevailed among the participants. Despite the diversity of expertise and nationalities, discussions were kept very friendly and open. The best interest of the participants can be demonstrated by the fact, that on Friday evening discussion lasted... long after the official end of the program, and on Saturday morning participants gathered early at 7 and from 8 am the main program continued with the full audience.

On the occasion of the course a special issue of the journal Cor et Vasa was published, prepared by editors Widimský P. and L. N. Hopkins. All articles of this issue are as "open access" freely available in the following 5 months online at this address: http://www.sciencedirect.com/science/journal/00108650

STUDENT RESEARCH CONFERENCE

Invitation for Student Research Conference
Day of Event: May 10, 2016
Opening of the conference: Syllabova hall at 9:45

This year we registered a total of 70 contestants, both students of Master study as well as doctoral students and bachelors. Besides lectures and student’s poster presentations we have managed to secure a very attractive reciter from the ranks of teachers and guests.

We welcome as a guest of honor - prof. RNDr. Jan Cerny, Ph.D., - a prominent Czech immunologist and Head of the Department of Cell Biology Faculty of Science after opening at 10:00 I am convinced that his lecture entitled "In vivo veritas - the study of processes in living cells," will attract not only students but also academics.

The second lecture (which we usually invite some of our younger prominent teachers) will have a doc. MUDr. František Duška, Ph.D., newly appointed Head of the Department of Anesthesiology and Resuscitation who returned after several years in Nottingham to his Alma Mater. The lecture which will be held in Syllaba hall from 12:45 pm has a catchy title "Evidence-based medicine: How to read and how to take it seriously in clinical practice?"

I would like to invite you and your colleagues both the conference and engaging lectures but also at a social evening in the student club Celetná at 18:00 http://studentskyklubceletna.cz/

Course Overview: This four week intensive English language and cultural studies programme offers 25 hours a week of guided learning opportunities at intermediate, upper intermediate and advanced levels of English – subject to sufficient student numbers and an initial English language test on arrival.

The Summer School is for students of any first language other than English who are looking for a short but intensive experience of studying in Wales.

Participants will be introduced to British culture and society through a tailored course of academic tuition, educational trips to the nearby cities of Liverpool and Chester, and excursions to the most picturesque and historic sites of northern Wales and western England. We have pre-planned programmes on offer, but participants are also free to use their own initiative to engage in city life by visiting museums, galleries, shops, pubs... until they wish to return to Wrexham by a train/ bus of their choice.
Tuition and credits: On successful completion students will be awarded Education credits (=10 ECTS) which can be used towards a Higher Education degree as appropriate.

Social programme: Social events and weekend trips are included in the price and will take place according to the schedule. We plan to continue our successful country evenings where participants can exercise their newly gained language skills and introduce their country and its culture to their international friends on the course. Our film evenings also offer popular entertainment with a cultural touch; and we can make recommendations for those wishing to enjoy nightlife in Wrexham, nearby Chester, or even further afield!

Accommodation: Students are provided with on-campus accommodation or are allocated to University housing a short distance from the University. All accommodation is single en-suite (private toilet and shower). Usually up to 6 students share a fully equipped kitchen (good for practising your English and making new friends). The Student Village site is close to the learning resources (library, IT), laundry facilities, supermarkets, pubs, restaurants and cafes, and is patrolled 24 hours by security officers.

Student support: Scheduled transfers from/to Manchester airport are included in the programme fees as appropriate. Staff from the International Office and the Language Centre will support you during your stay in Wrexham. 24-hour emergency numbers will ensure that you will always have somebody to call for help or advice if needed. You will also be advised on free time activities as well as on individual plans and visits.

Minimum Age: 18 years

Fees: £1800 including tuition, tuition material, 3 weekend trips, 1 guided tour, 4 social events, accommodation (with bedding and towels), and airport transfers (to/from Manchester airport) subject to schedule and prior agreement of times. The competition of the award of Albert Schweitzer Prize Prix de Medecine was held on May 4, 2016. This competition is organized and announced by the French Embassy in Prague in collaboration with the pharmaceutical company Pierre Fabre.

Totaly there were registered 17 students whether undergraduate or postgraduate. I am pleased to say that the competition was excellent. All contestants spoke English at a high level, had very good documentation and presentation and usually they held the prescribed time for the presentation. The level of discussion was on very solid scientific level. It has been seen that students themselves work on their issues and they manage that both technically and fundamentally.

The jury was composed of 9 representatives of the participating institutions (medical faculties), ASCR representative and a representative of the organizing company. In CART ballot was ultimately addressed in this order:

1st MUDr. Michaela Kotrová graduate student of the 2nd FM CU in Prague,
2nd Martin Bortlík student of 5th study year FM CU in Hradec Králové,
3rd MUDr. Martin Holek postgraduate student of the 3rd FM CU in Prague. The title of his work: Procalcitonin dynamics after long-term ventricular assist device implantation.

In addition of MUDr. Holka. MUDr. Josef Fontana, Mgr. Michala Kolářová and studentka of 4th study year Eliška Selinger participated in the competition. Also their work and presentation were excellent.

The prizes will be award at winners ceremony which will be held at the French Embassy on June 22, 2016 at a reception in Buquoy palace in the presence of French Ambassador Jean-Pierre Asvazadouriana and forward traditionally by Nobel Laureate for Chemistry 1987, Professor Jena-Marie Lehn. All participants in this competition will be invited to the ceremony.

I believe that this type of competition and the award will help to motivate young scientists and especially doctors and medical students to further scientific work.

I wish all participants from 3rd FM CU a lot of breakthroughs and of course the successful completion of graduate studies or faculty of medicine.

The conference was held on May 10, 2016 at 3rd FM CU

The conference was opened on behalf of the Dean prof. MUDr. Tomas Kozak, Ph.D. The guest of honor (already the fifth in the history of conference) was prof. RNDr. Jan Černý, Ph.D. and lecture entitled "In vivo veritas - the study of processes in living cells." The attendance at the lecture was the largest ever and the candidates did not fit after auditoriums. Prof. Černý received an honorary diploma from the hands of statutory representative of dean prof. Kozak as a thank of students for his lecture.

The second lecture which equally fill the auditorium was presented by newly appointed Head of Department of Anesthesiology and Resuscitation - doc. MUDr. František Duška, Ph.D. His lecture titled „Evidence-based medicine: How to read and how to it seriously in clinical practice?“ attracted not only students but also teachers.

Like last year we organized a workshop for students interested in science. The workshop was designed primarily for students of lower study year and its aim was to introduce the possibilities of scientific work at our faculty. The participation of students was plentiful there.

This year 70 works were registered. The works were divided into 7 categories - 4 (bachelor, theoretical, clinical and post-graduate) lecture and 3 poster category 3(without bachelor section).

Lectures
- Bachelor section – 3
- Undergraduate theoretical section – 6
- Undergraduate clinical section – 6
- Postgraduate section– 6 ( 1 apologized for illness)

Posters
- Undergraduate theoretical section – 17
- Undergraduate clinical section – 17
- Postgraduate section – 15

In postgraduate section we again had a loyal subscriber of the University of the 3rd Age Ing. Pavel Stopka, CSc.

The presenting students were assessed according the predefined criteria (points 1 to 10) with 1 being the worst and 10 the best rating. The maximum number of points from one evaluator was 30. The points of all committee members were then counted and based on the achieved scores determined by the sequence for each section separately.

Location at the top of each section were following:

Authors challenge re-interpretation of findings on AAV-based gene delivery and liver cancer

Jean-Charles Nault, Jessica Zucman-Rossi, INSERM, and colleagues, voiced strong opposition to the re-interpretation by Berns et al. of the research results their team published in Nature Genetics. In an article entitled “AAV2 and Hepatocellular Carcinoma,” in Human Gene Therapy, Nault et al. reaffirm their findings that insertional mutagenesis caused by AAV2 gene delivery vectors contribute to a subset of liver cancer cases in rare patients. They dispute the claims by Kenneth Berns and coauthors, also writing in Human Gene Therapy, who assert a protective role for AAV infection based on Nault et al.’s findings, in which AAV2 provides a tumor suppressive effect.

Thymulin gene delivered to lungs via biodegradable DNA nanoparticle

Researchers from Federal University of Rio de Janeiro (Brazil) and Johns Hopkins University (Baltimore, MD) described a novel, nontoxic biodegradable DNA compaction method used to deliver nanoparticles containing a synthetic analog of the thymulin gene. The researchers had previously demonstrated that thymulin gene transfection mediated by highly compacted DNA nanoparticles could prevent inflammation and remodeling in a mouse model of chronic allergic asthma. They presented their work in an abstract at the American Thoracic Society's 2016 International Conference in San Francisco.

Opportunities The ESGCT Spring School

The European Society of Gene and Cell Therapy is committed to supporting the development of gene and cell therapy as well as gene-based vaccine strategies. Promoting young scientists is of particular importance to ESGCT. In April 2016, the first ESGCT Spring School on Gene Therapy was held in Hannover, Germany, organized in collaboration with the German Society for Gene Therapy, the German Center for Infection Research, and Hannover Medical School. Highly regarded scientists presented in an exciting program covering the current state of gene, cell, and oncolytic therapies. Speakers also provided insights on how to tailor gene delivery tools and on novel strategies for treatments of inherited diseases. and acquired diseases in vaccine development and in immunotherapy. The Spring School was 2.5 days of advanced lectures organized in a congress-like format and dedicated in particular to the education of MD, MD/PhD, and PhD students. The overwhelming interest, in addition to the engagement of the students, the exciting discussions, and the networking opportunities, shows the need for events such as this one. ESGCT will continue to collaborate with various national societies to organize Spring Schools around Europe each year.

Art. 1
Subject of regulation
In accordance with Art. 6 of the Code of Study and Examination of Charles University this directive regulates procedure for recognition of assessments of study from studying at another university or college in Czech Republic or abroad (hereinafter "the recognition of assessment of study").

The Neurology Winter School will run for four weeks from 3rd to 29th March 2017 and will consist of a series of lectures, tutorials, seminars, bedside teachings, communication training and lab visits.

Issues for consideration will include:
- Principles of neurology and neural science
- Intersections with neurosurgery, neuroradiology and psychiatry
- Methods of diagnosis and treatment

The international students will choose a field of interest for patient contact and rounds and will integrate into our medical team during the whole Winter School. They will hospitalize patients and discuss the anamnesis of physical examination and test results as well as the adequate treatment with their respective ward doctors or consultants. Furthermore, specific tutorials will be held which instruct the students how to discuss clinical cases in a problem-oriented and cooperative manner. Small group training sessions and seminars will involve diagnostic tools in neurology, interpersonal communication, e.g. “Breaking Bad News”, simulations based on standardized patients and other elements of the medical professional’s skill set.

A German “study buddy” is assigned to each participant from abroad, and helps to pilot his or her partner through the complexities of hospital practice.

The Winter School also features an entertaining social and cultural program. On weekends, students go on skiing trips together, attend a concert or a ballet, view the paintings in the Pinakothek museum, or visit nearby attractions such as Neuschwanstein Castle and Salzburg.
